We have made some good progress over the past week towards obtaining a voice gateway router. Josh made headway in determining several different models besides Cisco that could do what we need at 1/3rd the price. So it looks like we can get everything we need for around $600. We talked with Prof. Man, and he has given us the go ahead to work with Prof. McNair on buying the $600 router so we can move forward with our project. Right now, Josh is writing up a detailed proposal describing the unit we need, where we can buy it, and how we intend to use it. It should be ready to go to Prof. McNair by Monday afternoon.
