Weekly status:
This was a good week for the group and the project. On Monday, Rich showed us the progress he's made with the BrainStem, and from the sound of it, it should be relatively easy to interconnect our devices. Then we met with Prof. McNair (the first time in 3 weeks for me!), and had a short discussion of our current progress. Also this week, the class had a meeting where various deadlines and formats were discussed, and that was helpful for keeping track of everything that's going on around here now. The main thing that needs to be done is the midterm report. This is an issue because we will all be in various places over break (I will actually be out of communication entirely for a little bit), and the report is due the Tuesday we get back. Therefore, this week, everything should be made as complete as possible.

Weekly report is due to Senior Design Coordinator and TA by Noon Monday. Email submission is greatly preferred - submit using WebCT, email to sd@koala.ece.stevens-tech.edu or individual emails. Copy should be sent to advisor
